Farm Bureau Meeting Brings Members From All Portions of County

Attendance and Interest Greater Than Ever; Speakers Drive Home Scientific Farm and Dairy Facts; Attendants Surprised at Revelations of Project Reports.

The greatest and best meeting of the Farm Bureau since its organization in McKean county was held at the court house Wednesday. From the standpoint of attendance and interest it never has been equalled. Practically every part of the county was represented, with the largest delegations coming from Port Allegany, Ceres, Bradford, Turtle Point and Kane.

It was a meeting of both profit and pleasure. When adjournment was taken every visitor realized that the Farm Bureau is a factor in economic affairs the potency of which is incalculable.

The morning session was called to order at 10:20, H. R. Hilton of Port Allegany presiding. Following consideration of a few minor matters the following members were elected directors: H. R. Hilton, C. W. Lillibridge, Ray Mosier, Eugene McCabe, D. L. Dennis, P. Dreier and N. T. Larson.

On motion a committee consisting of H. R. Hilton, George Richards and D. L. Dennis was appointed to wait the county commissioners with a request for an increase of $500 yearly, making the annual appropriation $2,000.

At 1 p. m. an elegant roast lamb dinner was served at Munn's restaurant, to which some 100 of the delegates did ample justice.

When the business of the meeting was again taken up at 2 p. m. the members were regaled with one of the most interesting and comprehensive reports of project work ever compiled. With reference to potatoes and the value of spraying and fertilization it was demonstrated clearly that increases due to the employment of Farm Bureau methods was never less than 50 per cent, and oftimes far and away above that figure.

In the report of the Cow Testing association, the fact was made quite plain that under modern scientific methods cows oft-times condemned as poor and unfit, had been reclaimed to the point of excellence, demonstrating that old-time methods of passing judgment are absolutely worthless.

In his address to the Bureau on matters having to do with the care of cows, A. A. Borland emphasized the value of good cows, stating that while the average Pennsylvania cow produced some 4,000 gallons of milk a year she easily could be made to produce 11,000, which means dollars and cents to the owner. Mr. Borland also spoke of the necessity of good sires for cows, stating that a farmer could not afford to keep an ill-bred cow. He also touched upon the cost of feed, and showed wherein the same feed for a good cow would produce a larger quantity of milk than if fed to one of lowly origin.

Dean R. L. Watts of State College, the speaker of the day, proved himself a speaker in every sense the term implies. Taking "Agriculture" for his subject, he said that agriculture was America's greatest business; that it is a greater business than iron, steel, coal, copper in fact all other business combined. But, he added, it must be made profitable, and the only way to attain this end is through innovation of scientific methods. Illustrating this point, he cited the case of a State College graduate from Luzerne county, who cultivated 12 acres of celery by dry farming methods and with great success, while in the farms adjoining the celery crop proved a failure. The reason for this graduate's success, the speaker said, was due to knowledge of what he was doing, while his neighbors were without knowledge. The trouble with Pennsylvania farmers, he said, is that they know more about producing big crops than they do about dairy husbandry, a subject in which they must interest themselves and along strictly scientific lines if they would make farming more profitable.

In the addresses of both Mr. Borland and Dean Watts great stress was laid upon feeds, with particular reference to that which has come to be recognized as scientific feeding.

Space will not permit extended mention of the various reports on work at this time, but the Farm Bureau having promised the reports in detail The Miner hopes to make more extended mention in its next issue.

The meeting adjourned with every attendant feeling that he had put in a most profitable day.

FORD TRUCK RUNS WILD AND KNOCKS BIG DENT IN SASSE STORE BUILDING

When Gerald Deanlar hitched his Ford truck in Union street, near Green, last Saturday evening, he little thought that the old animal could muster up sufficient courage to break loose and run away, but break loose she did, nor did she stop in her wild flight down Union street hill until she collided with the southeast corner of Sasse's furniture store building on Main street and knocked a big dent in that structure. Despite her determination to go on, however, the old girl revealed the utmost consideration for human life, running by a number of persons in Union street without even touching them, and crossing East Main street so carefully in her wild flight that not a single auto was endangered. All her malice seemed concentrated on the Sasse building, and while it must be conceded that she did considerable damage, her plight was such when her vengeance was satisfied that she had to be towed, pushed and shoved into Doctor Quirk's hospital across the way, where a diagnosis revealed a badly broken frame and divers and sundry major and minor lesions of highly essential parts. Following an operation, which necessitated the substitution of a new body, the patient was pronounced fit for service. Damage to the Sasse building, however, is considerable.

SPECTATORS ARE TERRORIZED WHEN TWO MACHINES COLLIDE

Gus Engstrom, driver for Mrs. Eugenia Hamlin, and Roy Thomas of the Anderson & Thomas Garage, East Smethport, driving a car belonging to Harold Fox, were the principals in an auto collision at 12:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, that struck terror to the hearts of a number of spectators. Both machines were running at a fair rate of speed when, nearing Mechanic street, Engstrom, who was just headed west on Main, sought to avoid Thomas coming from the Mechanic street with his high-powered car, narrowly escaped participation in the mix-up by skillful manipulation of the steering apparatus and brakes. His quick action no doubt averted a tragedy.

driven by Thomas in Engstrom's car with force sufficient to break the left front axle and demolish fender and bumper of his (Thomas') car. That no one was injured was considered a miracle. Engstrom's car, however, came out of the crash unscathed. Mr. Engstrom having swerved sufficiently to permit the frame of the car to receive the full force of the impact. Ralph Herzog, who was just about to turn into Main street from Mechanic street with his high-powered car, narrowly escaped participation in the mix-up by skillful manipulation of the steering apparatus and brakes. His quick action no doubt averted a tragedy.

KANE MEETS SMETHPORT ON GRIDIRON, SATURDAY

Next Saturday, October 28, Smethport football fans and all lovers of genuine sport will be privileged to witness the biggest and best football game of the year when the Smethport High school players meet up with the crack Kane team, long considered Smethport's greatest rival. This year Kane is reputed to have the fastest team in Northwestern Pennsylvania. This reputation came to Kane when recently she beat East High of Erie 6 - 0. But Smethport also has a fast team and an exciting scrimmage is promised. This is the first time in three years that Smethport has met Kane on the gridiron and the local boys are determined to give a good account of themselves. It is their intention to send Kane limping back to her own neck of the woods.

Smethport Beats Bradford.

Due to late cancellation of the football game between Eldred and Smethport last Saturday, Smethport Hi was compelled to arrange a game with the second team of Bradford Hi, through the kindness and sportmanship of Mr. Hess, Bradford Hi's athletic director, and Professor Schilling of Bradford Hi.

The Bradford boys played a very good game, considering the fact that it was the first time they had played together. In the first quarter Bradford held Smethport's first team down to 13-0. Smethport's second team then got into the game and proved more of a match for the Bradford boys. In the third quarter, Iddings, a coming half-back and expert drop-kicker, caught one of Bradford's forward passes and ran 55 yards to the goal post. In the final period, with but five minutes to play, the first team again took the field to try out a few new plays preparatory to the big game next Saturday. The game ended with the score 25-0 in Smethport's favor.

The Bradford boys played like good sportsmen, which is typical of all Bradford teams, and although outclassed, were fighting hard until the last whistle sounded. Cogliostro, Smethport's half-back, came out in fine form, making two touchdowns and repeatedly making long gains around left end. Halpenny again demonstrated his ability at throwing forward passes and his open field running was a feature of the game.

Mrs. N. J. Masser Bentley and small son, Charles Frederick, of Staten Island, N. Y, arrived Sunday for a week's visit to Charles W. and F. J. Masser.

400 Bushels Potatoes to Acre, Achievement County Home Chief

Supt. Taylor Employs Farm Bureau Methods in Almost Record-Breaking Feat; Big Crop is Made Possible by Disease-Free Seed and High-Power Spraying.

Superintendent Charles A. Taylor of the County home, has set the potato raising pace for McKean county.

Known for years as a man who knew how to produce wonderful crops of potatoes, the summer of 1922 has witnessed the breaking of all previous records on his part by more than four hundred per cent.

When put into cold type, Mr. Taylor's latest record reads: Eight hundred bushels of potatoes produced from two acres, which means four hundred bushels to the acre.

Save and except one instance—that of a farmer of Crawford county, Pa., Mr. Taylor's record stands without a parallel.

Although he has followed State College and Farm bureau methods to the letter in raising his record crop, Superintendent Taylor has surprised the heads of both institutions and himself as well.

Heretofore Mr. Taylor has been content with crops of some 160 to 180 bushels per acre—crops which excited the wonder of the majority of raisers, but now that he has exceed the old record by four hundred per cent., it would be interesting to learn what potato raisers generally have to say.

According to those who have watched the process of Superintendent Taylor's crop, he procured his seed from a field that yielded 330 bushels to the acre last year. Then prevailing upon the county commissioners to supply him with a high pressure sprayer, he set to work. It is said that he not only sprayed the vines at frequent intervals, but kept every one of them alive until frozen down by the recent heavy frosts.

The potatoes grown by Mr. Taylor are far above the average in size and surprisingly uniform. Through the employment of Farm Bureau methods of culture he has demonstrated that modern scientific methods as evolved by American farmers surpass those of Europe, which until recently, led the world in intensive agriculture.

Another case in point is that of H. L. Harmon of Kent Hollow, who came from Iowa some four years ago, to whom the Farm Bureau sold 7½ 1-3 bushels of disease-free potatoes and instructed him in the use of a high-power sprayer. When the crop was garnered it was found that Mr. Harmon had produced 240 bushels to the acre after roguing out diseased plants, averaging about three bushels to the acre, the 240 bushels per acre representing the product of disease-free seed. But Mr. Harmon has just started raising spuratoes along scientific lines.

In order that a thorough test may be made of their methods, State College and Farm bureau authorities always advise setting aside four outside rows of potatoes for old-time treatment, that everything be done in the matter of their cultivation save spraying. Following garnering, a comparison is made, with the result of finding that the tubers raised by old-time methods are far inferior to those where scientific methods are employed.

RECTOR ADDRESSES WOMEN ON EDUCATION IN WEST; MAKES APT COMPARISONS

With the declaration that the schools of the West are far more advanced from the standpoint of educational facilities, at least, Rev. W. E. VanDyke delivered a very interesting and informative address to the League of Women voters, meeting in St. Luke's parish house last Wednesday evening. Rev. Mr. VanDyke's conclusions were based upon observations made during his recent visit to the great Northwest. The speaker declared that in every western state he visited he found that education not only was considered of paramount importance, but that every provision was made for education of every child within the jurisdiction of the various states. The speaker submitted his views as a layman. In doing so he made comparison of eastern and western school facilities. Western towns of the size of Smethport, he said, had school buildings with such adjuncts as auditoriums, indoor playgrounds, school libraries, etc., all calculated to appeal to and awaken interest in the child mind, and these advantages were supplemented by ways and means having to do with the child's physical welfare.

With reference to the teaching profession in the West, the speaker stated that a college education was required by many of the states and that the profession was regarded so highly that salaries were paid commensurate with ability.

Superintendent Lillibridge who was present, also made a few remarks along educational lines, which added to the interest of the meeting.

BOROUGH WILL FURNISH ELECTRICITY TO ACETONE FACTORY WHEN REBUILT

About one week ago when the Norwich Chemical company made announcement of their intention to rebuild the acetone plant, destroyed by fire, officers of that organization followed up the move by conferin gwith Borough Manager Backus concerning an electrical supply for the new plant. Acting on the overtures thus made, Mr. Backus drew up a tentative proposal which he submitted to council for ratification. This accomplished, he placed the matter before the Norwich company's officials, with the result of immediate acceptance and the request that a formal contract be drawn up. The contract as drawn by Borough Manager Backus was submitted to council at a special meeting last Monday evening. Council ratified the contract, and all that remains to be done is the appending of the necessary signatures.

According to Mr. Backus, work upon extending the lines to the acetone plant will be begun just as soon as the electric lighting system for the town is completed—a matter of a comparatively short time.

FOR CONGRESS

ELISHA KENT KANE

OPPOSES TWO-PARTY SYSTEM.

Under the Many-party System, parties rise to push great issues; issues win or lose, and disband. Under the Two-party System they contend for public offices on the principle that "To the victors belong the spoils!" Naturally they frame issues and make nominations to secure the changeable votes of classes and associations who put selfish interests ahead of general welfare. Sometimes platforms are framed and candidates nominated to please rich people who will pay for an expensive campaign. Coal, oil and steel barons, railroad magnates, international unions, and even the dirty liquor traffic, this at times have thwarted the will of the majority of citizens. Extremely or oppressive laws result and public indignation, stimulated by some other monied or class interest forces a complete change of party power, changing tariffs, banking plans, taxes, or transportation systems hold up business and throw men out of work.

The caucus is another evil fruit of the Two-party System. Congress is no mere debating society or school of speechmaking. Its vast work is performed through committees on all subjects of importance. The party in power gets a majority of each committee; the other gets a minority. Then instead of getting together, they caucus separately, and the lesser party has no say. The caucus, a party's members of the whole House, is still worse. To its decisions every member surrenders his freedom of action. Party bosses crack the whip and he is driven. Of course extreme measures result. Constitutional Amendment ought to make the Senate a house of proportional representation. Until then, we can help matters by electing congressmen of independent mind who will refuse to be caucus bound and will be servants of the whole people. I'll be no rubber stamp for any person, party or interest. I shall be resolute, but never quarrelsome. I have ideas of my own, but my mind is open to welcome those of others. The House contains statesmen who are like great stones for nation building. Use me for cement to hold them together.

At election my name will show with the Prohibition title only. I can be impartial and free of caucus or financial control. Excepting $100 from a friendly prohibitionist, my expenses are paid by Mrs. Kane and myself. Our object is to do our share in bettering the laws and customs of the beloved nation which has made us free, safe, prosperous and happy.

RED ROCK-DUKE CENTER ROAD IS MADE PASSABLE BY ARMY OF VOLUNTEERS.

In order to complete the new route on the Red Rock-Duke Center road, eliminating the steep grade before snowfall and have communication between the two points open during the coming winter, about 40 residents of Duke Center offered their services Sunday to spread cinders on the new road. Four large motor trucks and four small ones were pressed into service and 10 carloads of cinders were hauled from Red Rock to the road.

The work of surfacing this road will be completed next Sunday, it is expected, all the volunteer workers having agreed to be on the job again. Sunday noon the residents of Duke Center prepared lunch on the community plan and treated the workers to a picnic at the E. B. Sage grove near Red Rock. The abandoned road has a 22 per cent grade which is cut down to about eight per cent in the new route. Because of the steep climb, the road was impassable during past winters and communication cut off between Bradford and points behind Red Rock.

MAN OF THIRTY-THREE WEDS GIRL OF NINETEEN AND WIDOW OF SIXTY-SIX

Leon D. Burns, 33, was confronted by two wives in the Potter county jail at Coudersport, the other day. One, a bride of a few weeks, the former Mrs. Annie E. Allen of Lewisville, twice as old as her husband, and the other a Miss Fowler of West Bingham, aged 19, stood and gazed at their husband through the steel bars. "Oh, Leon, how could you do it?" cried Mrs. Allen, while the little girl stood mute.

Leon has been married four times in his short career. His first wife divorced him in Erie, September 28, 1920. September 3, 1921, he was married to Rosena Fowler of West Bingham. lived with her a few weeks and departed for Erie and Bradford, writing his wife loving letters and promising to send money, which never materialized. He managed to borrow $25 from his wife's sister, by mail, and with this money he visited Lewisville. When he was a boy he was ill with typhoid and Mrs. Allen nursed him and he remembered her kindness. She was the owner of a small home in Lewisville. September 23 last Leon and Mrs. Allen visited Cornell, New York, where they were married. The next day they visited Coudersport and the new Mrs. Leon D. Burns placed a loan of $300 on her home, giving Leon $270 to return to Erie to pay off some small "debts." Soon after his arrival in Erie he wired for $100 more, but the wife could not raise the amount. In the meantime news of the wedding reached West Bingham and his legally made wife. She proceeded to Coudersport and learning that the rumor was true, swore out a warrant for Leon's arrest. The two women met for the first time in a law office and compared notes, displayed their marriage certificates, and found that there was no possible mistake that the man behind the bars belonged to both of them.

Two warrants are pending over Leon and it looks as if he'll be absent from society for a long, long time. Mrs. Allen-Burns will have her marriage annuled, while Mrs. Fowler-Burns will sue for divorce.

TIMELY REMINDERS FROM PENNSY STATE COLLEGE.

The last Warning—Get after the wheat moth, now, before cool weather appears. If treatment has not already checked the damage done by this insect. Use one pint of carbon bisulphite to every one hundred bushels of grain.

Garden for next year—Fall preparations for next year's garden will have much to do with its success. Clean out the hotbed before severe winter sets in. Secure good soil for seed sowing and transplanting and give the land an application of manure this fall as well as next spring.

Medicated nest eggs—Eggs manufactured from naphthalene and claimed to be lice repellants, should not be used because they do not seem to inconvenience the lice and mites at all, and they are harmful to the hens that sit on them. Save your money for some good louse powder, such as sodium fluoride.

Dehorning Calves is easily and cheaply done before they are ten days old by clipping the hair from the poll of the head, and rubbing the horn buttons with a stick dipped in moistened stick of caustic potash. Do the work carefully, and protect your hands from the caustic action of the stick.

BRADFORD HERALD SOLD TO WELL KNOWN EDITOR.

The Bradford Sunday Herald, for a quarter of a century published by the late Mrs. Ada Cable, has been sold by the executors of the estate to D. A. Dennison and R. P. Habgood. The new owners took charge of the plant Monday morning.

Mr. Dennison is a newspaper man who needs no introduction to McKean county citizens. He was associated with the Bradford Era for 25 years, later with the Gas Journal of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and the Buffalo Courier. It is understood that Mr. Habgood will take no active part in the management of the Herald.

NEWS OF THE SECTION

and Exchange Clippings

Kane—George H. Wirt, of Harrisburg, and Harold E. Port, of the state forestry department, who have been in this city for the past few days looking up a suitable location for a fire tower, finally decided on a site on the McDad farm, on the Smethport road, about two miles from this city. Observations were made from various high points in close proximity to Kane also Mt. Jewett, and the place selected is an ideal one for a tower as a plain view can be had of the entire surrounding country for a distance of many miles.

Johnsonburg—The 56th annual session of the Elk county teachers' institute will open in the court house at Ridgway on Monday morning, October 30. All public schools in the county will be closed during the week. The annual meeting of the school directors of the county will be held Thursday afternoon, November 3rd.

Johnsonburg — George Rosenkrans, of Kane, with his outfit for drilling water wells, is now putting down three test wells up the Silver Creek valley, with the object of testing the flow and quality of the water. It is the intention, if this source of supply proves valuable and of sufficient volume, to sink a number of wells as an auxiliary supply of water in the dry season for the Clarion mill. It is believed Mr. Rosenkrans will also drill about three additional water wells for the borough water department.

Coudersport — James Henderson and Mrs. Eva Taber, who left their employment in the County home some months ago when evidence of larceny of various articles came to light, are being held by Elyria, Ohio, officials, in which city they were arrested the past week. The location of the pair was discovered when Mrs. Taber telephoned her daughter in Emporium. The pair were arrested in Flint, Mich., a few days after their flight from here, but jumped bail and departed for other scenes.

Coudersport—Mrs. Grace Lohman 88 years of age, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Hosmer, was made happy last week when her brothers whom she had not seen for forty-four years, came for a visit. The gentlemen were: Louis Weyrauche of Livingston Manor, N. Y., and Henry Weyrauche, wife and son William, of Fisher's Eddy, N. Y. Her daughter, Miss Delhia Lohman of Buffalo, also was present.

Port Allegany—Work on the Burtville road is progressing steadily, and the steam shovel has reached the foot of Silver Spring hill, where they have a deep cut to make. The excavating for the new section of road is nearly complete, and they will soon reach the old road again. On account of the lateness of the season no efforts will be made to concrete this end of the road this year, which will be a great disappointment locally.

Port Allegany—Merrit Wetters of Sartwell Creek is harvesting a wonderful crop of potatoes this year. These potatoes were grown under modern scientific principles, with spraying and every possible attention. Niles Fessenden, who was buying cattle on Sartwell Creek, picked up fifty of them that weighed 96½ pounds. One weighed 3½ pounds. Ten of them more than filled a peck measure.

Coudersport—The annual institute of Potter county teachers opened here Monday. Superintendent Akeley has engaged the very best instructors in the country and the session promises to be one of the most profitable ever held.

Bradford—Margaret Jane Wheeler, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wheeler of No. 63 Cottage Row, died at 2 a. m. Sunday following an operation for the removal of a peanut kernal she had drawn into her lungs.

Bradford—Miss Maude Ford, a resident of Bradford for many years, died in the Bradford hospital, Sunday at 6 a. m. One sister and one brother, both of Bradford, survive.

Ridgway—Kegs and jugs are at premium in this city. All hardware stores have been having a brisk run on wood and stone containers for some time. Local dealers say that a veritable land-office business was done this season. One reported that last year he had sold 50 kegs and that many bottle-cappers and bushels of caps also have found a ready sale in Ridgway during the last two months.

Emporium—Officers called to quell a fight at the home of Otto Nellis, found Nellis and his son Charles with blood running down their faces from deep gashes in their heads. The gashes were inflected by George Williams, colored, who was crazy from drink. All the men had been imbibing, and when Nellis and his son sought to help Williams home he turned on them with a jack knife. Williams now is in jail.

Ridgway—A blind black bear weighing 250 pounds was killed near Byrndale last Saturday. The bear was first observed staggering aimlessly about, colliding with all objects in its pathway. Finally it fell exhausted. It then was discovered that the animal was blind. Game Protector Turley gave orders for the bear's execution.

Shinglehouse—The buyers begun shipping potatoes to the city markets. The farmers are right busy digging the crop which is said to be fairly large this season.

Shinglehouse—The Pennsylvania State Highway department is nearing the completion of an improvement on this five mile stretch of road which has cost the state $2,500. It is now up to the Oswayo Valley Good Roads association to expend a similar amount for cinders. A plan has been worked out whereby the entire five miles of road between the concrete pavement at the borough line and Ceres can be cindered if the owners of automobiles will come forward and do their part.

McKEAN COUNTY GAINS FAME AT STATE COLLEGE.

"McKean county is well advertised at State College," said P. S. Crossman, Farm Bureau manager, on his return from a visit to that place last Friday and Saturday. "On a placard displayed in the Main building, I found pasted some forty or fifty clippings from as many of the leading newspapers of Pennsylvania, all testifying to McKean county as the pioneer in starting the drive for the $2,000,000 fund for the Keystone state's greatest educational institution. Really, I felt proud of old McKean, for truly she has performed a work, the beneficial nature of which is beyond one's ability to compute."

BUYS WATSON CIRCUS.

NOTICE.

All property owners in the Borough are requested to trim their shade trees from the ground up to a height that will permit the free carrying of umbrellas on rainy days, and in Main street the trees should be trimmed up to the height of the top of the ornamental lights. This will make the lights more efficient, look much nicer and it will improve the trees and the lawns underneath. This is the time to trim trees, and if you will do it at once the Borough will carry away the trimmings free of charge.

OSCAR E. GUSTAFSON

McKEAN COUNTY'S DUTY.

Oscar E. Gustafson, Republican candidate for the Assembly, stands four-square for the platform of the Republican party, state and national, and is heartily accord with the program as enunciated by Hon. Gifford Pinchot, Republican candidate for governor. Furthermore, Mr. Gustafson has been a Republican all his life. He comes of good old Republican stock. For these and other reasons his friends are rallying to his support and he will be sent to Harrisburg with the usual splendid majority accorded Republican candidates.

Every Republican in McKean county should fully realize what it would mean to the county to be represented at Harrisburg by a single member and have him identified with the minority party. At this particular time, when state aid is needed for good roads, when forestry conservation is a live issue, when vital consideration is being given the establishment of a national park in Northwestern Pennsylvania, McKean needs a representative in the legislature who is a member of the majority party. Think it over. If McKean is to advance she must elect a representative who is no handicapped, and Oscar E. Gustafson is the man.

WOMAN EDUCATOR RAPS METHODS OF McSPARREN.

Because of his attitude toward education, Gifford Pinchot's candidacy for the governorship is receiving immeasurable support from those interested in the welfare of the schools of the state, according to Miss Margaret Maguire, supervisory principal of Philadelphia schools and one of the best known women educators of Pennsylvania.

"Every school teacher and every person having at heart the welfare of our school system deplores the despicable methods employed by McSparren and his Democratic colleagues in dragging the schools into the political arena," said Miss Maguire. "Any party that stoops to the petty methods of those minority party leaders is no living up to the principles of Americanism.

"The schools are too sacred a thing and the welfare of the children too sacred a trust to have this all-important matter made a football by unscrupulous politicians. Whatever is done for their betterment must be done in dispassionate consideration quite removed from the turmoil of politics.

"Every educator has been hoping the time would arrive when our schools would be placed on the same high plane as our churches and kept inviolate from the touch of partisan politics. Our schools are not and must not be permitted to be the pawns of politicians.

"It is apparent that McSparran has hurt himself, and with disastrous effect, in the way he has handled the school problem to and fro over the state. Ruthlessly he has persisted in making or attempting to make a political issue out of so sacred an institution. The recoil is bound to smite him in his political ambitions.

"What a contrast is afforded by the methods employed by Gifford Pinchot. Realizing this is a subject for expert attention, he has turned the whole subject over to a commission of specialists, and will hear them before he commits himself. He declines to stoop to the methods of a McSparran and gains immediately by his dignified attitude and his exercise of sound judgment."

Surgeons boast of having successfully grafted shinbones, but they would confer a much greater favor on the rest of humanity if they could graft political backbones on some people.

A GREAT ROAD SYSTEM.

A writer in a Philadelphia newspaper described at some length and with lively enthusiasm, what the United States is going to do in the next 20 years with its national program of road building. Something like 180,000 miles of improved federal highways will be completed within that time, woven into a great consistent system, and supplemented by an equal mileage of improved state and local roads.

The cost of the federal end of this system is estimated at about $3,000,000,000, to be spread over the 20-year period, which figures down to an average cost of $17,000 a mile. About one-third of the proposed system is either already built, or in process of building, but judging from past and present experience in such matters, the slice which this takes off from the $3,000,000,000 so far as it is not represented by bonds still to be paid, will be more than counterbalanced by costs of repairs and reconstruction before the 20 years are over.

State highway engineers and the bureau of public roads of the federal department of agriculture will place a detailed exposition of this program before the highway education board, at a conference to be held in Washington this week, and it is hoped that the conference will enable this board to make substantial progress in developing aids for the schools and colleges now training the young engineers who will have a large part to do in bringing the plan to successful completion. It makes attractive reading, and one can only hope that as it proceeds towards accomplishment, proper care may suppress our all graft, incompetency and unwisdom, and get a real dollar's worth of road out of the taxpayers pockets for the purpose.

McSPARREN HELPLESS.

The Potter Enterprise truthfully observes: "McSparren elected to the governorship would be of about as much use to the state of Pennsylvania as a one-armed paper hanger with the hives." Continuing, the Enterprise says: "There isn't an excuse in the world for the people registering a vote for McSparren, and the reason for this statement is simple. There is not the least shadow of a doubt but that the house of representatives will, as always, be Republican, by the usual large majorities. The senate is Republican, and McSparren as governor would be as helpless as a ship in mid-ocean without fuel. No, the people have not an excuse for giving him support when Gifford Pinchot, the Republican candidate, and the state organization have pledged themselves to the very core of platform that the people have long desired. If the voters will but look at this matter sensibly and not be swayed by unwarranted agitation, they will soon realize the futility of a vote for McSparren and give Gifford Pinchot a majority larger than that given any Republican candidate before."

We have no laws against emigration from this country. If there are any Americans who think Americans should fight the battles of Europe, they are free to go on over any time they feel like it.

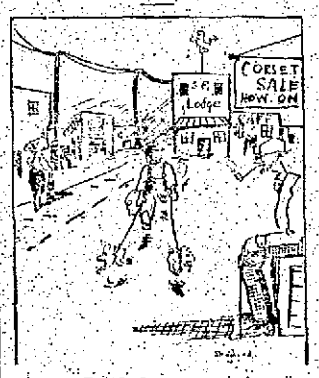
BILL SAM'S DICTIONARY



By I. L. MARTIN

Uncle Jake Billings, who is nearly blind, but declares that he sells everything from a toothpick to a threshing machine, is whispering it to some of his best customers and closest friends that he has not had a single call for a corset since the low-cut waist and the high-cut shirt craze struck Tatterhill nearly six months ago. He says that he is going to close out his corsets at cost and lay in a large stock of fancy hose and ornamental garters.

CORSET. A once popular article worn by women to reduce the size of their waist and to protect their breast, but of more recent years almost entirely discarded because of the popularity of the wide belt. Bill Sam's Dictionary, page 286.

. . POETS . .

By GENE BYLES

Poets there are, and poets there be,
And where they all come from I never could see;
Scribbling on this and scribbling on that,
Their effusions from brains which are so often fat.

I know, for I do it, or try to, at least
Perhaps 'twould be well had I long ago ceased;
But, creating verses will get to you, my boy;
Sometimes it brings sorrow, sometimes it brings joy.
Sometimes you will sweat till you've soften your collars,
But mighty few poets trade verses for dollars.

There are good ones and poor ones all over our land,
A numerous bunch which will never disband;
Tall ones and short ones and fat ones and spare,
Some with big neck-ties and long flowing hair,
Some with four-eyes and a love-sick manner,
And many there are who have carried the banner.
He ones and she ones continually phrasing,
Getting out verses which is often amazing;
No matter what subject comes into their ken,
They'll put it in verses with their trustworthy pen,
And mail it around till it gets into print,
Then hope for the editor's key to the mint.

Some have good habits and some otherwise,
Some are cheap skates, some regular guys,
Some smoke cigarettes, some don't, some do,
Some chew tobacco and some of them won't,

They write about girls and they write about boys,
Those "so beautiful eyes" and "the bright stars above;"
And I like good verses, but I wish to explain
That some of this poetry—gives me a pain.
But verses will be writ until Death "doth us beckon,"
A lot of it dummy, like this stuff, I reckon.

Poets! Some write but seldom, some poets are chronic,
To quote from Art Bristol: "Too few are donic!"

Instead of dealing with the league of nations, the Turks find that Great Britain exercises complete control over the peace negotiations; in other words, that country dominates the league. The United States recognized the true situation when we were asked to join, and the Republicans of the senate refused to approve the covenant. America was not then, and is not now, ready to reverse the decision of our own Revolution and place itself once more under the domination of Great Britain.

The Democratic leaders cannot take up any national issue to stress without driving thoughtful Democrat to the support of the Harding administration.

No system of government will work in a land where everybody tries to work the government.

The coming months give promise of a record breaking prosperity.

STATE POLICE BELIEVE DEAD MAN DISCOVERED NEAR KANE WAS CONVICT.

A special dispatch from Kane says that Pennsylvania state police are working on the theory that the man whose decapitated body was found at Watson farm, near Kane, two weeks ago, was one of two criminals who were believed to have been in that vicinity at the time of the murder.

The state police say they have evidence to show that the men were fugitive from justice, and add that they believe one murdered the other when he threatend to reveal the identity of the other to police. They are working on the slue furnished by the laundry mark "U. T." found on the neckband of the shirt the murdered man was wearing.

The surrounding country is being searched in an effort to discover the missing head. A detective looking over the ground found a stone with gray hairs sticking to it, evidently the weapon with which the man was killed. He also picked up a collar and shirt band, size 15½, and a tobacco pouch.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

For the reason that The Miner is made ready for press early Wednesday evening, which is to say that all type has been set at that time, correspondents are urged to get their letters to The Miner not later than Tuesday evening. If delayed until Wednesday they come in conflict with late happenings in town and county, and thus delay publication. Correspondents who will act upon this suggestion will confer a great favor.

PAINFULLY INJURED.

Stepping into an open ventilator in his drug store last Wednesday morning, Mr. F. A. McCoy suffered such severe lacerations and bruises of his right leg that he has been confined to his home ever since. Mr. McCoy had lifted the ventilator top from the floor for the purpose of making minor repairs, when a customer came in and while engaged in supplying his wants the accident occurred. The injury, while painful, is not serious, and his many friends will be pleased to learn that he is coming along nicely.

CHARGED WITH DESERTION.

On a tip from County Detective Allison, George Culbertson, former well known citizen of Bradford, was arrested by the Bradford police on a desertion charge filed by his wife. Culbertson is the father of seven little girls. He claims to have contributed $5,000 to his family's support since June, 1921. Culbertson arrived in Bradford Monday night and was at once taken into custody. Wednesday Culbertson was brought to Smethport by County Detective Allison and surrendered to Sheriff Robinson. He is held in default of $1,500 bail.

The Miner's circulation is fairly booming.

SOLDIER BOYS ENTER ON ACTIVE CAMPAIGN FOR COUNTY MEMORIAL.

The American Legion boys of McKean county have entered upon their campaign for a memorial building and are determined to put it over. The campaign committee, composed of Russell Lindsley, E. G. Potter, Doctor Livermore, Paul Hallstrom and Dr. W. A. Oxrander, have arranged to visit every post in the county, where enthusiasm for the project is said to be at the bubbling point. The soldier boys of Eldred have placed themselves behind the move, having joined forces with Smethport and Kane last Monday evening. The boys believe that once the voters understand the full meaning of the enterprise that it will carry by a big majority at the November election. The ballot will appear on the blanket sheet and all that is required is to vote yes or no on the levy contemplated for the purpose.

HISTORY of VALLEY GRANGE, No. 1190

Its Rise and Progress

The first Grange in McKean County was Liberty Grange No. 1182 of Port Allegany, Pa. The next was Valley Grange No. 1190 which was organized March 7, 1891, by C. N. Barrett, of Port Allegany, who was county deputy at that time. The meeting was held in what was then the town hall, a little building which stood across the road from what is now H. D. Marsh's Store at Farmers Valley. Nineteen persons were obligated as charter members, as follows: W. F. Beckwith, Mrs. Martha Beckwith, August Smith, Eugene Day, Mrs. Eugenia Day, A. G. Farley, C. C. Decker, Mrs. Mary Decker, Miss Lura Day, Mrs. Henrietta Stull, Carl Stull, Mrs. Alice Hackett, Elmer Roeder, Miss Rebecca Beckwith, Miss Eva G. Farley, Mrs. Mary Caldwell, Miss Letha M. Stull, Miss Beatrice Day, John W. Reed, and Mrs. Juliette Roeder.

The officers elected and installed at the first meeting were as follows: Master, August Smith; Overseer Mrs. Reginia Day; Lecturer, Mrs. Henrietta Stull; Steward, C. C. Decker; Assistant Steward, A. G. Farley; Chaplin, J. C. Stull; Treasurer, Mrs. Mary Decker; Secretary, Miss Lura Day; Gate-Keeper, Elmer Roeder; Ceres, Rebecca Beckwith; Pomona, Mrs. Mary Caldwell; Flora, Miss Letha Stull; Lady Assistant Steward, Miss Eva G. Farley.

The meetings were held in this building until June 22, when the Grange met for the first time in the new hall building owned by J. C. Stull, and which was later purchased by Valley Grange, being the first in the county to own their hall. Not having the necessary funds in the treasury to pay for the hall, the members donated and took shares without interest at ten ($10.00) per share, for the amount, and as long as the funds of the Society would permit these shares were paid, and within a few years a clear title to the property was received from Mr. Stull, and Valley Grange No. 1190 had a home of its own, and when purchased a piano for the hall.

The first Grange picnic was held in August 1901, there being no Pomona Grange then. And in 1903 preparations were made for a grand picnic and Grange rally. This was really the first McKean County Grange picnic. It was held in the Valley grove, and was a great success. But on that day a greater event took place than any picnic, for in the evening all those from other Granges of the county who could possibly stay met with the members of Valley Grange and assisted State Master W. F. Hill, Grange the Potpuna Grange No. 53 of McKean County.

Our halls used as voting places for the primaries and elections of the second precinct of Keating Township, the County paying for the use of same.

When Colyerville Grange No. 1212 was organized, our membership was reduced considerably by members of Colyerville joining there, making it more convenient for them to attend Grange. But as our young people reached the age required, they were admitted to membership in Valley Grange, so we increased to the original number and do not stop even then. We are not content to our number as fast as we could like but live in hopes to add some more young people in the near future.

A number of the charter members have passed away, and as our fathers and mothers are going down the Valley one by one.

Members of Valley Grange now number 94.

Officers elected for 1922 were as follows: Master, Frank J. Hackett; Overseer, Mrs. Reginia Day; Lecturer, H. D. Otto; Steward, H. D. Marsh; Ass't. Steward, Geo. Rockefeller; Chaplin, Mrs. Lizzie Dysel; Treasurer, Mrs. Mary Decker, who has filled that office since the organization of this Grange with the exception of two years; Secretary, Miss Beatrice Day; Gatekeeper, Fred W. Bilger; Ceres, Mrs. H. D. Marsh; Pomona, Mrs. Abbie Hackett; Flora, Mrs. Abbie Bray; L. A. S., Mrs. Rebecca Rockefeller; Pianist, Miss Lura Day.

The best server Valley Grange is installing a large drop curtain, a cut of which was published on this page of the Miner this week.

In conclusion would say that the writer of this history has endeavored to make it like the ladies skirts, short, but covering the subject. So drop the curtain. (By a member.)

WELL EQUIPPED FOR SENATE SEAT

Senator David A. Reed is Able and Aggressive.

HE AND PEPPER GOOD TEAM

New Senator Served as Chairman of Commission to Study Subject of Employers' Liability and Workmen's Compensation—Campaign Now on in Full Swing.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3.—United States Senator David A. Reed, of Pittsburgh, Republican candidate for the remainder of the Knox term expiring March 4th next and for the full six-year term beginning on that date, is regarded in Washington and throughout the nation as one of the highest type men and most promising senatorial prospects that have come into the upper branch of Congress in years. There is widespread unanimity of opinion that Pennsylvania and the Republican party in the Keystone State have put their best foot forward in presenting such an able, aggressive forward looking young man.

Epitomizing the feeling in this direction, United States Senator George Wharton Pepper, in a Pittsburgh address delivered a few days ago, said: "Take a citizen of this city and commonwealth, train him as a lawyer, associate him with the great minds and noble characters with whom he has been in contact, send him to France to serve in our nation's army and navy, and you have found a man who will do a job well and a privilege to have representing you. Such a man is Senator Reed."

Further emphasis is laid on the qualifications of Senator Reed by United States Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, who is coming into Pennsylvania this month to speak in behalf of the Republican candidates for national and state offices. In announcing his intention to come here Senator Borah said: "In the United States Senate, your two representatives, Senators Reed and Pepper, are looked upon as two of the ablest men who have come to Congress in years. They are regarded as distinct assets, not only to the Republican party, but the nation as well, and I am very glad of an opportunity to speak in behalf of both and stress the importance of having them returned to Washington by an overwhelming November vote in rebuking the astounded conduct of the people of Pennsylvania by their new representatives in the national legislative halls."

Senator Borah comes to Pennsylvania also to speak a good word for its Governor, Gifford Pinchot, Republican candidate for Governor, whom he has known a long time. He believes Mr. Pinchot's election will redound to the everlasting credit of the Keystone state and be regarded as a healthy augury of party wisdom in bringing out the ablest personnel.

Senator Reed has the distinction of being the youngest man in the Senate save one and he is the second soldier of the world war to become a member of the upper branch of Congress. His father, James H. Reed, was appointed a federal judge, but resigned from the bench to resume law practice. Judge Reed was the law partner of Senator Knox and in the office of this firm Senator Reed was a law student. Born in Butler forty-one years ago he prepared for college at Shady Side Academy, graduated from Princeton and studied law at the University of Pittsburgh. His career proclaims him an eminent lawyer, a brave soldier and a public spirited citizen. Experience as well as ability are required for leadership and effective service in national life at Washington. To be strong in the Senate, it is necessary that a state send to that body a man of ability and then keep him there.

The junior Senator from Pennsylvania attained to his office by appointment following the death of Senator William E. Crow. At the May primary election this year he was given two nominations for the Senate, one for the unexpired term, and for the full term. He was honored with an unprecedented vote of confidence and in the short time he has served his nation, state and party has amply justified the confidence reposed in him. At the primaries he was propposed for the nomination for the short term. Another Republican sought the nomination for the long term. Senator Reed carried all of the sixty-seven counties and his majority in the state was approximately 650,000.

Friend of Labor.

In his public activities Senator Reed has been conspicuously the friend of labor. He became interested in Workmen's Compensation, and drafted an act of the assembly covering this subject, which was introduced at the 1911 session of the Legislature. The Legislature provided for the appointment of a commission called the Industrial Accidents Commission to study the subject and report to the Governor its conclusions and recommendations. In 1912 he was appointed chairman of this commission by Governor Tener. After an exhaustive study and investigation the Commission made a report proposing the present Workmen's Compensation Law, which was passed in 1915, and became effective January 1, 1916. This act followed in most of its important features the act as originally drafted by Major Reed.

Senator Reed has been counsel in many important cases before the state and federal courts, including the United States Supreme Court, and by special appointment of the Attorney General represented the commonwealth in many tax cases, which resulted in the payment of large amounts into the State treasury. He became interested in efforts to obtain better housing for workingmen and was one of prominent Pittsburghers who formed the Commerce Housing Corporation, of which he became a director.

His career as a brave soldier is well known. He was one of the first to enroll for the first Plattsburg camp. He was one of the organizers of the Military Training Association. In 1917, shortly after war was declared, he enlisted for the first officers' training camp at Fort Niagara. He was commissioned a major of field artillery, and served abroad with the 311th Field Artillery and saw front line service at Verdun and in the Meuse-Argonne offensive. Marshal Foch appointed him American representative on the Allied Economic Commission, and he served also on the Inter-Allied Armistice Commission at Spa after the armistice.

Senator Reed has the courage of his convictions. He is virile, upright, fearless under fire and eminently qualified in experience and ability to represent Pennsylvania in the U. S. Senate in the most advantageous manner.

Campaign in Full Swing.

October finds the Republican campaign throughout the State in full swing. Following the meeting last Thursday of the Executive Committee of the Republican State Committee in Philadelphia forces and vigor have been thrown into the breach for the attainment of an overwhelming victory for the straight Republican ticket in November.

In his addresses Gifford Pinchot has gathered material, he is telling voters some comprehensive idea of what he proposes to do when he goes to Harrisburg and takes up the reins of State government.

"The great thing a Governor must do," he says, "if he is to keep not only the State Government but the State itself better at the end of his administration than it was when he took office," said Mr. Pinchot.

Of economic issues and taxation he says: "I will do my level best to bring about a reduction in taxes. I am having this all important subject of taxes and the State's fiscal policies investigated at the present time in all thoroughness. I am not waiting until I get to Harrisburg to start to work along definite, constructive lines. I am against the imposition of new taxes until it has been made perfectly clear that we cannot run the State government on the taxes we have."

Welfare of the Farmer.

To the farmers he says: "Along with necessary my interests have always been centered in the welfare of the farmer who feeds us all. His attitude will not be changed when I get to Harrisburg."

Of roads he says: "The road question is of paramount significance to the people. It involves very large expenditures and must be quite properly handled with great care and with the best judgment that can be brought to bear. Other interests are concerned and must be taken into account, as well as those of the motorist. In deciding the matter, in adopting the permanent and in the award of contracts, the aim, as the most essential, is assured is a square deal not only to all highway construction interests without special favors or advance information, but also a square deal to taxpayers and road users of the State."

Of the development of our natural resources he says: "The time is coming when the industries of Pennsylvania will be electrified. We must begin the development of a series of powers to supplement those we now have in order to give us a rounded development of all sources of energy. Twice as much timber as is produced annually in the State of Pennsylvania is used in the hard coal mines alone. The time is coming when it will be impossible for our industries to get timber from outside the State. When that time comes we must depend on our own forests or go without wood."

Large and enthusiastic crowds have greeted Mr. Pinchot since he resumed his tour. Everywhere is indicated the high regard the people of the State generally hold for his character and personality and their faith in his promises to fulfill his campaign pledges. This week he is touring the western section of the State with a mass meeting in Pittsburgh Tuesday and an itinerary that takes him up into Erie and surrounding section the weekend.

Women's Activities.

Republican women of Pennsylvania are doing splendid work in behalf of the entire ticket, according to Mrs. Barclay W. Warburton, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee, who has just completed a partial tour of the State conferring with party leaders.

"The women are alive with zeal and putting real punch in the campaign," said Mrs. Warburton. "In the cities they have been making house-to-house canvasses in behalf of a big registration, and in the boroughs, towns and country districts, they have thrown themselves earnestly into the effort to get every possible vote polled at the November election. At county fairs, granges and fall fetes their work has been perfectly splendid.

"I believe they will contribute more materially to the success of the Republican ticket in November than they did to the nomination of our candidates at the primary election, and that is saying a lot, for outside our State the nomination of Gifford Pinchot was heralded as a victory for the women.

"But this is no woman's party, and no woman's victory. Our women are beginning to realize the importance of co-operation in the common end that the best interests of our government may be served. Not only are we aligned under the banners of the best party, but we are electing to high and important National and State office, in men like Senators Pepper and Reed and Mr. Pinchot, the highest type of men to be found in or out of our

ELISHA K. KANE.

THE VOLSTEAD ACT

Is simply the 18th Amendment made into law. The Amendment was the most nearly unanimous will of a whole people that ever took place. 45 states out of 48 ratified it within the first 6 months—ten times faster than the original constitution. Its limit of one half of one per cent was the ratio fixed of old in the revenue laws. No increase would be constitutional. The organized enemies of prohibition cannot change the constitution. One branch of each of 13 legislatures is enough to prevent. Light wines or beer cannot be made lawful. All the liquorites can hope to do is to lighten the punishment of bootleggers and unlawful saloons. They are now trying to scare congressmen by fighting those who vote dry. They strive to defeat Volstead himself, and at the primary, did defeat our Congressman Jones although they had to use a thoroughly dry man for the purpose. Vital as is the issue in many places, our district is safe. Swoope, Snyder and I have given our word to support the Volstead Act.

"And behind the dim unknown,
Standeth God within the shadow
Keeping watch above his own!"

Enforcement is not costly. Seizures and fines bringing the government far more than it pays out.

There will be less sickness and fewer wrecks when American ships with sober sailors carry decent, loyal, dry Americans; and the wine-soaked crews of French liners take gamblers, fast women and drinking men to the cabarets and hospitals of Paris or sink them in the pure Atlantic. Health will improve when doctors cease to prescribe booze. Fewer snakes would die, seen. If olive oil were the only cure for snake bites.

Next Congress will be dryer than this. It need spend little time to drive body snatchers away from the foul corpse of John Barleycorn. Living issues call me. Our fair land from the desert of Nevada to the brookside of Pennsylvania must be filled with healthy, happy, bright and virtuous families and the voices of children be heard singing in the streets.

KANE SLEUTH COLLECTS FROM LIQUOR SUSPECTS AND THEN DISAPPEARS.

Detective William W. Kenney who last March collected evidence on booze misers at the solicitation of Kane's vigilance committee which resulted in a raid in which the arrest of various suspected ones were made, is missing and, owing to alleged activities in Mayville, N. Y., he will not voluntarily show up at the McKean county December term of court.

It seems that Kinney is alleged to have accepted a liberal retainer from Mayville's committee and to have proceeded to unearth evidence against the suspected ones. It is reported that he was abundantly successful in his efforts, but when he had collected the evidence that was to land the bootleggers behind the prison bars, instead of turning it over to the committee, he approached the suspected ones and informed them that he had the goods on them and intimated that for a consideration he could be induced to suppress the damaging facts.

The suspected ones allowed themselves to stand for the shake down and produced liberal wads of the long green to secure his silence. It is alleged that he later accepted the hush money and after playing both ends against the middle, getting all the coin there was in sight, he just naturally beat it.—Eldred Eagle.

Feed the beef calf—Calves that are intended for baby beef should be started on grain feed before they are weaned. A satisfactory grain ration to start calves is made up of equal parts of cracked corn, ground oats, and wheat bran.

COMMISSIONER O'CONNOR IS WEDDED TO POPULAR YOUNG LADY, OCTOBER 18.

Wednesday, October 18, at the Catholic parsonage, New Bethlehem, Pa., Rev. Fr. Murphy officiated at the marriage of County Commissioner Joseph J. O'Connor of Port Allegany and Miss Anna May Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mills of New Bethlehem.

At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony, which was quiet, Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor left on a motor trip to Cleveland, O., Detroit and Saginaw, Michigan, they will go to the ice rose Fort Allegany.

The bride is one of New Bethlehem Lehe's most charming and popular young ladies. She is a graduate of the New Bethlehem High school, the New Bethlehem Business college and was graduated from the Buffalo General Hospital school of Nursing with the class of 1922 as majoring with that institution until last August.

Mr. O'Connor, who is at present serving a fifth as one of the board of commissioners of McKean county is a rising young man of splendid capabilities. During the World war he served as a lieutenant of aviation and is well known to all who know him."

Both bride and groom are well known in Smethport where a host of friends wish for them a future filled with happiness.

The Miner joins with a large host of friends in extending congratulations on their first visit here.

JUDGE BOYLE'S TALK ON "MISTAKES" SATURDAY MEETS HIGH APPROVAL.

Judge Boyle delivered an address on "Mistakes" Saturday afternoon in the court house to a large gathering of women and a few men. His talk was devoted largely to the divorce evil, in which he took occasion to state that there is nothing on Pennsylvania's statute books for the divorce of any kind, and said there was no place in the Scriptures wherein divorce was sanctioned and that marriage is a sacrament instead of a civil contract and as such it could not be dissolved.

He also directed attention to mistakes of the press in publishing stories of indecent cases, saying that freedom of the press does not mean publishing stuff unfit for people to read. He also stated that many people thought too much of personal freedom and too little of personal duty. The speech throughout was interspersed with bits of humor and was very well received.

The address was preceded by several numbers rendered by the Travelers' Sextette. Mrs. J. E. Cutler also sang two solos.

CAPT. MAYO IMPROVING.

The venerable Captain E. B. Mayo is improving, getting better each day, was the glad news received by Attorney Guy B. Mayo, Tuesday, from the Homeopathic hospital, Buffalo, where Captain Mayo has been a patient during the past three weeks.

McGAVISK-COONE.

At seven o'clock, Wednesday morning, October twenty-fifth at St. Elizabeth's church of this place occurred the marriage of Marie McGavisk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McGavisk of East Smethport, and Phillip Coone of Sartwell, Pa., Rev. P. J. Dohan officiating.

The friendless wedding party consisted of Mary Coone, sister of the groom, and Bernard McGavisk, brother of the bride.

Miss McGavisk was tastefully attired in a blue suit and hat, and gray squirrel choker, and carried a bouquet of roses.

Miss Coone wore a blue canton crepe dress and black hat and also carried roses.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the McGavisk home, and the young couple then left for Buffalo. Upon their return they will reside here.

The bride is a popular and charming young lady who attended Smethport high school, and later was employed by the Redfield Publishing company.

The groom is a young man of fine character, who is well liked by all who know him.

The Miner joins with a large circle of friends in extending its congratulations.

W. C. T. U. ENTERTAINS.

U. and its relation to the school by Mrs. Ada B. Lyon of Bradford, county president of that organization, and also a substitute teacher in the schools of that city. She recently attended the state convention of W. C. T. U. in Williamsport, and brought many good things from that great gathering. She is a pleasing speaker and is thoroughly acquainted with her subject. After the program delicious refreshments were served by the ladies.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT.

One of the most delightful events of the season was the miscellaneous shower given by the Misses Vera and Harriet Jones and Mary Geary, at Harriet Jones' home, on Thursday evening, October 19th, in honor of Miss Winifred O'Brien, bride-elect.

The guests, who numbered eighteen, were very pleasantly entertained the forepart of the evening, following which a delightful luncheon was served. The rooms and tables were artistically decorated, suggesting the Hallowe'en spirit. Miss O'Brien was the recipient of many pretty and useful gifts.

RIXFORD BEATS SMETHPORT

In a 7-inning game last Sunday Smethport again met defeat at the hands of Rixford, the score standing 5 to 4. The game was called on account of darkness. Humiliated by the set-back, Smethport is going to try it again next Sunday, and local fans, still confident that the boys who have made a record second to none in this section of the state, will redeem themselves, will not give up until the last half of the last inning is played. Go to it, boys; here's hoping.

NOTED WRITER HERE.

JUBILEE MINSTRELS ATTRACT AND PLEASE LARGE LYCEUM CROWD

The Yankee Doodle Jubilee Minstrels, given for the benefit of the American Legion Auxiliary, drew a record crowd to the Lyceum Wednesday night and enthusiasm was in evidence from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

Does Smethport talent? The answer to this question comes from every member of the home talent troupe, hits being so evenly balanced as to render comparisons difficult.

The outstanding features of the show, however, were Doctor Livermore's humorous negro impersonations, the specialty dance by Miss Catherine Pomeroy, the "Bells of St. Mary's" by Miss Kitty Hungerville and chorus, vocal renditions by the ever popular Irma Wells Cutler and "Sweet Miss Mary" by Flossie Bouton and ladies.

The overture was all that could be desired and contained many pleasing surprises, while the wind-up sketch fairly brought down the house.

J. M. Wiant also proved exceptionally fine with a Hebrew monologue, while "Who's Afraid" originated and staged by Helen Bouton, Micable Hamlin, Birdie Monheimer and Dorothy Hogarth, was faultlessly produced.

Space forbids mention of every participant, but all acquitted themselves in a truly professional manner.

When you read a criticism of telephone operator because they make a "busy line" report, does it occur to you that every sensitive telephone girl who reads it is hurt? They are only doing their duty when reporting line is busy.

This phrase means that the "line," not the telephone, you called is busy. There may be two, three or four telephones on the line. With one in use, the others cannot be called. The "line" is busy.

Less labor is involved for the operator to complete a connection on the first call, when she can, than to report "Line IS Busy," and be called again.

No operator would ever make such a report if it could be helped. It lightens her burdens to complete your call at once. She knows you will call in if she gives you a "busy" report.

Permanent "Umbrella."

A new kind of umbrella is the second "invention" worn by a material checker in a shipyard at Portland, Ore. It is made chiefly of wood and measures 3½ inches long by 21 inches wide. It has a supporting frame which rests on the shoulders, and it is steadied by straps which connect with a chest belt, and a wooden strip which extends down the back. Its purpose is to protect not only the wearer but also his tally sheets in stormy weather.
